Awards Banquet February 23, 2008 2:00 PM 11

Other Race Calendar

Senior Citizens Center in Foster Park

Make sure to put this on your calendar and note that it is on a Saturday this year instead of the usual Sunday.

Be sure to bring a dessert and if you plan to be in the chili cook-off send me an email at the above address and I'll get the information to Will or Gina.

Club Kokomo ended 2007 on a high note as a record number of 160 runners and walkers finished the New Year's Eve 5K raising over $1,500 for Coyote Kids. Special thanks go to The Running Company which donated gift certificates and technical shirts for awards and prizes. Don't forget that CK members get a 15% discount at all Running Company locations. If you belong to Club Fitness 24, Body Unlimited, The Sportscenter, or YMCA please thank management for the donated memberships as we partner to promote fitness in our local community.

Thanks also to the many volunteers who made soups and brought snacks and desserts to supplement Charlie's Famous Lentil Soup and Annie O's home made rolls. With the gift exchange, prize drawings, and soup buffet I think we have created a unique event that folks enjoy and many look forward to returning each year.

Thanks to Mark and Gary for setting up online registration with www.active.com. If you read down the list of finishers you will see many names that are completely unfamiliar and the comments we received from these newcomers were very positive.

To all the runners, walkers, and awesome volunteers who contributed throughout the year we have a lot of achievements to celebrate and be thankful for as we look ahead in 2008.

I have many goals and dreams to chase as we enter the new year and I'm sure you do as well. I plan to enjoy the journey as we work our way to the finish line. See ya on the roads and trails!

From the President

On January 9th a handful of CKRR members converged at Grace Fellowship church to make the selection of the Year End Awards banquet award winners. Ray and Robin Tetrault volunteered to make pizzas for everyone's dinner (even the crust was made by hand!). Thanks to everyone that attended, I appreciate your help in getting this completed on time. And thanks to Ray and Robin for providing the facility and making a spectacular dinner. As a reminder, the Year End Awards banquet will be Saturday February 23 at the Senior Center located at Foster Park. The third annual CKRR Chili Cook off will take place for our pitch in dinner. I encourage those of you

of all Happy New Years to everyone! The bitter cold Indiana weather is on its way. It is once again time to begin planning out your training for the New Year, right when digits! Since we had very mild weather all the way up to the end of 2007, we can all predict the Indiana weather. Those of us who have been in Indiana most or all of our lives have come accustomed to training in the bitter cold weather and some have gone straight to the treadmills. Make sure that you start out easy if you have taken time off, it is tempting to start off where we apart of helping with the Haynes. As of Noleft off. It is difficult being sidelined for the first few weeks (or months) by adding too much too soon and then having to watching everyone else train for the MINI marathon. We would like to see all of you at the races and not on the sideline.

For those of you who attended the New Years Eve 5K you were treated to great have decided to take over the race with the weather and even better fellowship. Congratulations to Charlie Skoog for directing a successful New Years Eve 5K. We had a tremendous turn out and a superb lunch afterwards and the weather could not have been better. Thanks to all the volunteers and to those who helped with the food. For very big shoes to fill and a lot to learn from the first time we used Active.com, an online these members and hope that we can kick registration company, to help promote our race to pull in other runners from other areas who would not have known about our race. I spoke with a handful of runners from other areas outside of Kokomo who found our race on line and decided to join us. As the New Year begins, let me say first They could not stop talking about how much fun CKRR seems to have and what a family environment that we have. With these comments, all you can do is smile and be thankful that we have such an amazing the temperature will begin to get into single club that others from outside see how much fun we have together. Thanks to everyone for what you bring to the CKRR atmosphere.

> With a new year brings change. Bill Barnett has successfully retired from both Delphi and from directing the Haynes Appearson 4 miler for 2008. Everyone appreciates Bill and his dedication over the many years that he has either directed or been vember we did not have a replacement for the race director position and there was discussion as to whether we should cancel the race all together. Since this is CKRR's signature event I could not stomach the thought of another organization taking over the race. With this said, Gina Sheets and I guidance of previous race director committee members and also other club members. We hope that we are as successful at directing the race as Bill and the others (Tom Miklik, Dave White, Mike Deirdorf, Steve Wand, John Wiles, and Lorene Sandifur). We have off a great new Haynes race for 2008.

The Ghost Town 38.5 after....

By Gina Sheets

The HUFF

Trav and I had a great time with Charlie, Robin, Greg, Gale and George as we car pooled up to meet the challenge of the 2007 HUFF. The course was everything expected, muddy, slick, cold (it got colder during the day), and a blast. It was a mud fest. Of course the best part about finishing that 50k was taking the time to enjoy a good meal with friends and rehash the rough parts. The first time I did the HUFF I only did two loops. I was glad to finish it this year and I finished second in my age group. Trav did a great by completing all three loops when his longest training run was 11 miles with a lunch break half way in between.

The Siberian

A week following the HUFF Trav and I, along with Robin, Charlie and Greg headed over to do the Siberian. More mud and more wind and more freezing temps - certainly the name lives up to itself. This 7.65 mile course (as measured by my Garmin) everywhere. Plus the water on the course was easily knee deep in places, making standing around after the race not enjoyable. What was enjoyable after the race the party at Spanky's. The race was fun and I was able to pass some ladies at the end to get a t-shirt as one of the first 25 female finishers. Just what I needed.

The Ghost Town 38.5

The Ghost Town 38.5 miler was held on the 20th of January in Hillsboro New Mexico, population 26 and that may be counting a Javelina or two. The community is charming, the mountains will eat you a live, and the altitude will spit out what was not eaten. In .2 of a mile there is 300 foot plus ascent at an elevation of just under 7,000 feet. This was not for flatlanders. Trav and I went out early to visit my parents all to go a total of eight miles (four one in Mesa Arizona. Because of the HUFF and the Siberian I think I dislocated my hip. I could not walk or put any weight on my right leg. I thought that having a weekend to "rest" would be just the trick - ha. As I type this report I am still numb. The numbness started when the race took off it was 12 degrees in New Mexico at 6:00am. I stayed numb the rest of the day. Because of my inconvenient injury I had to walk the entire 38.5 miles, never again. I do not know how you all walk that far and that fast. The course was beautiful and most of it was runable (like that word) if a person could run. Walking I used muscles that I did not know were in my bottom, my shins hurt peat this one (I usually do not do repeat from my foot striking a new way and I chaffed under my arms for trying to look like I was propelling forward on the course. I was so cold; I dressed to run not walk and not in 12 degrees. I was so thankful to see the sun coming up behind us. When the sun was out and I was in it the temp was up in the 40's and it felt great for awhile. Then I would climb around the mountain and be in the shade and get chilled. I learned a new trick. It was so cold my Gatorade froze and my cap was frozen shut. I learned to carry the bottle upside down and that kept the liquid moving making it more difficult to was fun if you like the mud, it was thick and freeze. The course was pretty much an out and back. The first 6.5 miles (that seemed like the last 100 miles at the end) was on a highway with tight switch backs, 9 foot wide bridges, and cattle guards - definitely a hazardous place, in the dark and in the light. We got off the road and hit a dirt, rock trail for about 8 miles. We went into the forest to begin our first ascent. Once we climbed up 6,800 feet the view was incredible it was a great excuse to rest and try to breathe. Going down I was cautious because a misstep could kill ya. I was back on a dirt road, still climbing until mile 16, and then it was into the forest for awhile. I emerged out onto a cliff and the view was stunning. It was a Kodak moment and me with no camera. The climb around this cliff, up and down took me 1.2 hours in and 1 hour out (faster with experience I guess) way). The turn around was almost heartbreaking because you knew the mountain was waiting and the ascent up to 7,000 feet again. To entertain myself, no IPod, I would often find myself singing, talking to GOD or the cows, who ever responded first, but certainly being thankful for the experience.

I walked the entire 38.5 miles in 10 hours and thirty three minutes. I did not come in last but the last five I bet. It was a beautiful course; there were 47 runners who started, not sure how many finished. If you are looking for your first ultra this should be on your list. The race will cap at 60 and next year it will cap. I may just re-States this was 15). The race director, her family and most of the community (including the javelina's) volunteer for the race. The race director knew that some of us were in town on Friday night she invited us into her home and fed us well. The pasta dinner on Saturday night was very fun and there were door prizes for almost everyone. That is support!

A side note, when you travel the Ultra circles all across the United States, someone knows David Hughes. I spent the first hour on the course talking about David with a fellow runner; David is well respected in the Ultra community. Of course David has helped me a lot and I do respect his Ultra accomplishments.

This course was so remote I saw Trav when I started and at the finish. He had no opportunity to give me a plain hamburger or any other support while running or I mean walking. We have three more months to race and then we are done until October because we will start the Farmers Market again. I hope I can keep myself together. Maybe duct tape would help.

On the Roads

The Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure Indianapolis set records with more than 39,000 entrants and $2.3 million in donations at its 16th race last year.

Club Kokomo also set records last year with 80 team members and $1,601 in donations.

Komen Indy's goals for this year's April 19 race are 40,000 participants and $3 million in donations. Capt. Jack., one of CK's team leaders, is shooting for 100 members and $2,000 in donations.

Of the dollars raised last year, 75 percent stayed in Central Indiana in the form of grants to 21 organizations that provided educational programs to 35,000 people, and 13,200 free breast exams and 4,125 free mammograms to women who could not pay for the ex-

The other 25 percent raised by Indy went to the national Komen Foundation, which used the money for research. Six Indiana organizations received researched dollars from Komen.

Because of a promise 26 years ago between Nancy Brinker and her sister Susan Komen, who died of breast cancer, "We now live in an era of historic rates of screening and early diagnosis, declining mortality rates, improved treatment methods, and groundbreaking research," Dana Curish, Komen Indianapolis executive director, said at an Indy Race for the Cure Team Captains' meeting in January. "Because of Komen's tireless efforts, the five-year survival rate when breast cancer is discovered early has risen from 74 percent in 1982 to 98 percent now."

This is wonderful news for most people, but the future is not as bright for others. "Today, one in eight women will be diagnosed with breast cancer and one in every 33 will die from the disease," Curish said. "African American women have the highest death rate from breast cancer, 36 percent higher than Caucasian women. Hispanic women are much more likely to be diagnosed at a later stage. Young women under age 40 aren't screened as often and Race is on to set Race for the Cure records when diagnosed, they are likely to have a more aggressive cancer with a less promising prognosis. And, most disturbing of all, uninsured women are 40 percent more likely to die of breast cancer than those with insurance coverage."

> Two CK members had a lot to do with breaking our one-year Race for the Cure records last year. One was Sara Miller, who shared the story of her courageous fight against breast cancer. The other is Charlie Skoog, who asked anyone within ear shot, "Hey, why don't you join our Race for the Cure team?"

And, to echo Charlie, "Why don't you join our Race for the Cure team?"

Online registration is now open. There are no changes in entry fees again this year. The base entry types include: team participant, $23; sleep in for the Cure (entrant does not have to be present on race day, but will receive a race shirt), $23; team survivor (a breast cancer survivor who will receive a race shirt and survivor package that includes a pink survivor shirt, hat, and bib number), $23; and team child (8 years of age or younger entrant will not receive a race shirt but will be counted as team member), free.

In addition to one of the base entry types, a participant may select any combination of the additional entry items that include: In the Pink (entrant receives special gift for making an extra donation; gift can be viewed at www.komenindy.org), $50; and competitive (entrant will receive a commemorative timing chip to keep and a special bib number, and their time will be posted), $29.

Registering is quite simple. Go to www.komenindy.org. If you registered online last year, you can log in using your username and password. If you don't remember your username and/or password, follow the instructions and Komen will email them to you. If you did not register online last year, select "Join a Team." Our team's name is Club Kokomo Roadrunners and Capt. Jack is the team captain.

A new feature this year is registering additional members at the same time as you register yourself. You will fill in the boxes labeled additional family members. However, the additional person does not have to be a "family" member for you to use this feature. As in past years, Capt. Jack will pick up the team member race packets and distribute them April 16 prior to CK's training run in Highland Park.

Until cures are discovered and delivered, Komen Indy promises to spend the money it raises on "making sure everyone in central Indiana, especially the most vulnerable in our community, has access to education and early screening and detection services, giving them the best chance for survival.

"Together, our staff and board, our 21 grantees, our 650 volunteers, our 2,000 breast cancer survivors, and our 39,000 race participants promise to do everything we can to raise even more awareness and more funds until we have a world without breast cancer," Curish said.

Team registration closes March 21, so go online and help Club Kokomo and Komen Indy set records again this year.

Guest Speaker

"I'm here to kick butt and take numhers."

That's how Komen Indy volunteer and 10-year breast cancer survivor Becky Sage began her talk at the Race for Cure Team Captains' meeting in January. The feisty Warren School registrar will speak at CK's Award Luncheon on Feb. 23. Come by at 1 p.m. and hear what she has to say.
