F.I.R.R.S.T.'S First Annual "GIRLS NIGHT OUT"!!

By Robin Tetrault

What does F.I.R.R.S.T.'S stand for - "Female Inspired Road Running Support & Training System" of CKRR.

We are so excited to put this race for women (walkers or runners) on Friday, October 3, 2008.

The race is being sponsored by Sony's Sycamore Grille. It will begin and end downtown in front of Sony's on Sycamore Street. We have a fun-packed evening planned starting at 6:30PM with a 20 yd "high heel 'fun' hustle" (heels required, men welcome!), at 6:45PM a 5K run or walk (females only), door prizes, goody (and we mean GOODY) bags, snacks and drinks at the Grille, then at 8PM a Zumba after party on the square.

We are offering a trendy, feminine cut t-shirt that we may run out of if you haven't pre registered. The cost is $18 the day of the race. Registration and pre registered pick up will begin at 5:00PM until 6:15 PM the night of the race. Please get your girlfriends, sisters, daughters, mothers, and even your grandmothers together and join us for a totally outrageous night out on the square. As of September 25th we had 45 women registered to run!

We don't want the guys to feel left out, so come and support the special woman in your life and volunteer on the race course or just come and cheer her on. We really do need volunteers. So if you would like to help, please feel free to contact Rebekah Monroe at rebekah.a.monroe@gmail.com. Please volunteer ASAP!

It's too late to pre register, but you can download a registration form from our website so you have all of the information in hand. We hope to see you there!

Nickel Plate 8 and Some Good Grub

By Brian Reinhardt

Mark your calendars for Sunday October 26th to come and join us on the Nickel Plate Trail for the 2nd Annual Nickel Plate 8! Okay, so last year it was a 5-miler and this year it's an 8k [4.97 miles] but you have to admit that Nickel Plate 8 sounds better than the Nickel Plate 5-miler!

Besides, we haven't had an 8k race around here for years so some of those old club records need to be broken!

Last year's race was a fun run, but this year's race will be a club event and will be scored as a points race for the first time. For a cost of $4 for club members and $5 for non club members you can't beat it for an afternoon on a beautiful trail.

On top of that we'll be throwing some burgers and dogs on the grill and asking each of you to bring your favorite dish and beverage

Next month: Article and Photos from the BeeBumble.

Reminder: The McKinley School 4-miler date has been moved from November 8th to November 15th due to a scheduling conflict at the school.

From the President

By William Irvin

If you have a desire to lead CKRR in certain direction or would like to be a bigger part of CKRR please contact anyone of the current officers to be added to the ballot or to have the positions further explained.

2009 Race Calendar

The 2009 Race Calendar was discussed September 6th at the monthly CKRR meeting at the Half Moon Brewery. There were a handful of members on hand to help determine the race schedule for next year. There were two races added to the schedule, the Sam Costa Half and Quarter Marathon and the Mounds Trail race in Anderson, IN. This race is a very popular and well organized event that many CKRR members, both runners and walkers, attend every year. It is a beautiful yet challenging course at the Mounds State Park and it is held just as the trees have turned colors and have begun to lose their leaves. There was one race that was deleted from the schedule not by our decision, but by the Kokomo Symphony's decision. The Kokomo Symphony 5K will not be held next year due to the dissolution of the Kokomo Symphony organization.

The other races that were on the schedule for the 2008 race calendar will be kept with, of course, different dates.

Officer Elections

2009 marks the year for new CKRR Officer Elections. As the Vice President, Gina Sheets has the opportunity to take her experience to the President position. Gina is looking for a running mate (no pun intended) to succeed her as the Vice President. Brian Reinhardt is also stepping down as the newsletter editor after 4 years so we'll be actively pursuing someone to fill that office as well. Of course our Club is a democracy and uses a voting system to determine all officers for the Club. With this said, all officer positions will be voted upon with the ballot to be mailed to you by Mark Shorter. If you have a desire to lead CKRR in certain direction or would like to be a bigger part of CKRR please contact anyone of the current officers to be added to the ballot or to have the positions further explained. Please respond before the next newsletter so that ballots can be sent out.

Triathlon Updates

TRI-America

The Tri-America triathlon series made a stop up in Michigan City on September 7th, so Ron and I thought we would convince the wives going up north for a family weekend, which of course included a triathlon. Once they saw the bikes loaded up on the back of the Trail Blazer and all of our TRI gear in with our luggage, the cat was out of the bag. The gig was up and Ron and I had some major explaining to do. However, once we told them how much fun it would be they were accepting of our little race weekend getaway! What a beautiful area! We drove the course the night before and we were both very worried about the bike portion of the event, which was held on very rough road. The run course was very nice running along the coast line of Lake Michigan and the million dollar homes, what a sight!

Race morning approached and Ron and I were up and going by 5:30AM. As we were setting up our gear we noticed the water was a little rough. Leading up to race weekend there were storms and rip-tide warnings throughout the region and we quickly found out that the water had not calmed down any and it had certainly cooled down a lot! Luckily Ron and I both donned on the wetsuits to keep us warm in the mid 60 degree water.

I think for Ron and I both the swim was the worst part of the race, even compared with the rough road on the bike. It was the roughest water that I think that I had been in! We both survived and had a good bike and a good run.

Besides the extreme swim conditions and rougher roads on the bike, it turned out to be a great family weekend.

Mighty Mississinewa Triathlon

What a great event! That is all I can say. The MMT gets bigger and better every year. Going out to Mississinewa for the MMT always takes me back to when I was growing up. My father used to take my brother and me swimming at the Miami Recreational area for many years when I was younger. It is always

Training with a Friend

By Gina Sheets

I have always trained alone for five years with the exception of Wednesday nights at Highland Park and maybe some long training runs I have trained alone, until this year. In 2007, after having a great time getting to, running and returning from the Red Woods Marathon in California, Nicole Peel immediately picked another fall marathon for 2008, the Marine Corp Marathon in Washington D.C.

I was in because I enjoyed Nicole's company and had heard Steve Wand and Tom Miklik say nice things about the event. Around May I wanted to be accountable to someone for my weekly running just so I would do it and have to do it because I was being held accountable. I asked Nicole if she could do an email program with me and she being ever resourceful said how about one better, why don't we train together.

For a billion weeks we have been training very hard, this is the only program I have ever done and so it automatically is the hardest but seriously ask Earl Strong, it is hard.

In August Nicole suggests we do the new Fort Wayne Fort -4-Fitness half marathon and I agree. On Friday the 26th we drove up to Fort Wayne, picked up our packets, ate way too much at the Olive Garden and crashed with a friend in a really nice home. Saturday morning we were up at a decent time (5:30) and shortly after 6:30 we were dropped off a few blocks from the Start/Finish line. This race for a first time event was organized like it had been going on for 20 years. The start line had pace markers so you could line up in your appropriate pace group. We lined up at the 8:00 minute pace along with all the 10:00 minute pace people who had high ambitions but really frustrated me for the first three miles. Something or someone notified the folks in front that it was time to start so we went and we went and we just kept righting running until we turned a corner and saw the finish line.

We finished together in PR time for both of us, 1:40:50, which is a 7:42 smoking pace.

We were the 17th and 18th overall female finishers out of 908 and we were 136 out of 1651 finisher. I finished second in my age group; turning 40 has its rewards.

It was a nice day, a well organized race and I would encourage anyone looking for a nice training race premarathon to do this. Nicole and I had a great time together. I never imagined I would take 11 minutes off my best half marathon time but I did thanks to training with a friend. Go find a friend and hit the roads or trails.

a chance to see people from the Peru area that I knew as a kid or those that I went to school with.

CKRR was well represented this year as in the past 2 years that this event has been held. The swim took place at the Miami Recreational Area with 4 waves. The bike course takes competitors all the way around (cutting across Red Bridge on the back side for the return) Mississinewa reservoir with rolling hills. The run is half on trail and half on country roads. Congratulations to all the CKRR members who participated in the 3rd Annual MMT!

I would like to add a quick note to those of you who know Donnie Rogers, Matt Bolinger, Clayton Nix, and Jay Priest. I would like to congratulate all of them for completing Ironman Louisville (Donnie, Matt, and Clayton) and Ironman Wisconsin (Jay). This is a major athletic accomplishment and is deserving of a spot in my monthly column. For those of you who do not know the Ironman is a 2.4 mile swim, a 112 mile bike, and a 26.2 mile run (a full marathon!) all back to back. It is a very tough event that takes all day to complete and takes months of preparation to finish. Welcome to the Kokomo Ironman Club guys!

Race for Kim

By Robin Tetrault

It was a beautiful, sunny, crisp morning for the "Race for Kim." There was a good turnout for such a busy weekend. It was very well organized and the award medals added a very nice touch for the runners. Her brother gave words of appreciation for the support for the scholarship fund in memory of Kim. It was plain to see that the family did a wonderful job organizing the race and putting together this "young club race". Ray and I were very glad to be a part. We would encourage the club to embrace this very worthy cause.

Nickel Plate Trail Update

By Charlie Skoog

Work continues north of Peru and we hope to have another 6 mile section of the trail connecting Peru and Denver ready for paving by early spring, 2009.

In the past month volunteers including club member Greg Townsend built and installed 36 beautiful stop signs designed by Harry Denham. We have pretty much completed the back grading and raking of recently paved sections and continue to work on parking areas in Cassville, Bunker Hill, and Bennett Switch. With the improved and expanded parking areas we will be placing portable toilets at the above locations and Wallick Road which will be a welcome "relief" for all the trail users and volunteers!

Work continues north of Peru and we hope to have another 6 mile section of the trail connecting Peru and Denver ready for paving by early spring, 2009. Included in that section is the 312 foot trestle over the Eel River which we plan to build this fall using the same design as the bridges in Cassville and Bunker Hill. Volunteers and donations to build and maintain the trail are always needed, especially now, so please call 457-2607 or runckrr@aol for more details. Hope to see you on the trail soon!

The work is never easy, but if you've spent any time at all on the almost 13 miles that is completed you'll realize it is more than worth your time.

choice for a good old fashioned face-stuffin'! It was a great time last year as we all sat around swapping stories and wiled the afternoon away.

If you've never been on the trail be sure to take the opportunity to do so. I suspect that you'll make return trips on a regular basis.

For the walkers the event will be a 3-mile walk, the only one on the race calendar besides the Haynes Apperson. Be prepared to go after those club records as well because this is a fast course!

For those that run the Cole Porter 15k you'll get to see a portion of the course, but this race will take you further up the trail.

The race will start at the trail head on Riverside just south of Peru, but feel free to park at our house (2522 S. Wal-lick Road) - just 3/4 of a mile south of the trailhead and a nice warm-up away from the start. We've got a big yard and plenty of places to park and the parking at the trailhead is limited, especially on a Sunday afternoon when trail usage is high.

So bring your shoes, some grub, and a big appetite to the second annual Nickel Plate 8!
