A LEGEND COMES TO LIFE

By Ray Tetrault

In 1964 I turned an impressionable age seven. The Beatles were selling out everywhere they went. The Viet Nam war was authorized by Congress. The Civil Rights Act was signed into law. Cassius Clay beat Sonny Liston for the heavyweight championship of the world. But I didn't know anything about those things then. What I did know is that we now had a television set and I was going to see my first Olympics.

The Olympics were going to be aired by something called a delayed satellite feed. Someone tried to explain it, but I didn't know or care. One of the first races I was able to watch was something called 10,000 meters. My sister and brother tried to help me figure out how far that was. I think we decided it was a long way. The 1960's in America and the metric system were not compatible.

The announcer gave lots of time to cover an Australian named Clark and some other runner named Gammoudi, from some place I had never heard of. There was coverage on how America's hope, a man named Gerry Lindren, was injured and although he was going to run the race, would not be a factor. There was some mention of Billy Mills, but he was a minute slower than the two favorites. So the race was going to come down to Clark and Gammoudi.

If you haven't seen the coverage you need to go to youtube.com and see the race. It is still considered one of the best races ever in Olympic history. I agree with that assessment. The finish was incredible, but that isn't the whole story.

This was one of the watershed moments for me which pushed me towards choosing to be a distance runner. Ultimately my life was altered by this one moment in history. My friends of today largely come from the running community. My choice of exercise is still running. My life would have ended over a decade ago if it wasn't for being a runner.

24 HOUR RELAY SATURDAY JULY 23, 2011 8:00 A.M. TO SUNDAY JULY 24, 2011 8:00 A.M.

It was in the early 1970's when I first participated in a 24 Hour Relay. This event was popular during the 70's and faded away by the mid 1980's. I can tell you with a straight face that the first 19 hours was fantastic and it was a lot of fun. The last 5 hours were not all that much fun, but the satisfaction of being one of three who completed the entire 24 hours was incredible. I still keep in contact with the other two who finished with me. I have participated in a 24 hour relay 9 times. I wanted to bring this event to

Indiana to support the Cross Country teams in the State of Indiana and raise money to assist men who are reclaiming their lives after starting out with poor choices. This event is a great opportunity to accomplish both. A special thanks to Joni

I was invited by Dana Neer to come to Culver Running Camp for a day. When he said Billy Mills was going to be there I was reminded of that evening long ago watching him come back to win the 10,000 meters. My childhood hero was going to come to life all these years later. The best part was being asked to take Billy Mills back to the airport. What a privilege I was given to spend three hours alone with him asking him questions, hearing his stories, and beginning to understand his heartbeat.

I laughed as he told me with his bright eyes twinkling, how he was considering quitting the race with four laps to go. Hey, I have felt like that before!

I understood when he tells me he regrets never breaking 4 minutes for a one mile race. (The major difference is that he could have done it, and I couldn't)!

I agreed when he said that a woman was a sacred gift to man.

I had my heart stirred as we entered into a conversation about God. While he may not be comfortable with the fundamental Christian position, he is comfortable speaking about Jesus and our common God.

We reminisced about some of our common friends and the runners we both respect and admire. Billy is 73 years old, going on about 16 years in enthusiasm, but well over 150 years in wisdom. I listened as he talked about his family and we both shared our hopes for the last years of our life; finishing a race well isn't as important as finishing a life well.

There are so many thoughts he invoked inside me during the short time we had together at Culver Running Camp. I appreciated him the most as we all sat outside by the lake asking him questions. The questions asked by the runners were thoughtful; the answers by Billy were astute. It would be impossible to share in one short newsletter article everything that took place.

Billy Mills is far more interested in being a role model for people today than in being a hero of yesterday. He is intense about living his life in a way that honors God, respects his family, and leads his friends. In our culture of "Me", Billy is as refreshing a person as you will ever meet.

My gratitude goes to Kyle Walsh for giving me the privilege of taking his friend, Billy Mills, to the airport; also to Dana Neer for inviting me to Culver for camp. What a wonderful family my running community is in Kokomo. Adding Billy to the family is just another blessing in a world full of blessings.

McCracken and Western Schools for helping get this event off the ground. Our hope is for this to grow large enough for Masters Teams, High School Teams and Open Teams. This year we are having all open teams. This year we are giving medals to everyone who finishes the 24 Hour Relay and awards for the top two teams.

Each team is allowed to have a maximum of ten runners. Each leg of the relay is one mile. The first runner hands the baton to the second runner who hands off to the third runner, etc. with the tenth runner handing off to runner number one. If a runner does not run his mile he is done for the remainder of the relay. The order of runners cannot be changed once the event has started or the team is disqualified.

If you get a team together you will need to email me at runforfun@email.com and I will send the registration and sponsor forms. Get to work raising money for your favorite school. There is also a letter you can email to all your friends and family to raise money for your school's cross country program.

You don't want to miss out on this one of a kind event! So get busy and get your teams together. A special note: every runner doesn't have to be from the same school to be on a team. Find your favorite people to run with and get your team ready to go! See you at the starting line!

ON THE TRAILS

By Charlie Skoog

In early 2001 as an officer of Club Kokomo, I was invited by Indy resident, Richard Vonnegut to attend a trails planning meeting in the office of then City Council Representative, Cindy Dunlap. Richard called and told me Indian Trails Fund, Inc. and the Hoosier Rails to Trails Council had recently railbanked and purchased an overgrown and abandoned railroad right of way that would become known as the Nickel Plate Trail. He shared it was critical this trail be linked to the 80,000 residents of Kokomo and Howard County. At that small meeting a dream and a vision was shared with great passion. Richard did the same thing in Peru, Bunker Hill, Rochester, and other communities around the state. His dream mostly fell on deaf ears and many shouted "not in my back yard" but a few seeds landed on some especially fertile soil. In Miami County there was very vocal opposition by a few adjacent farmers who did not want a linear park in their back yard, in both Miami and Howard County there was mostly disinterest on the part of elected officials and policy makers.

Somehow, with the help of some incredibly talented and dedicated volunteers, the tide has gradually turned with more and more choosing to get on board. The vision remains a better tomorrow, a livable community utilizing active transportation infrastructure to connect people with places for any and every purpose. If you live in Kokomo the improvements are hard not to notice. Mayor Goodnight has embraced this concept as Kokomo has gone from "dying city" status to realistic "hope for the future" in three short years. The complaints about the "tire busting" bumpouts are dying down. Some folks will complain about the new bike lanes and the "ugly" city trail now paved from Markland to Boulevard just west of Home Avenue but others have already embraced the Industrial Heritage Trail as the diamond in the rough it truly is. As a fiscal conservative I welcome the debate on why we are wasting tax dollars in such a manner. Every time I navigate my bike around town or see a young family enjoying a paved trail, I know in my heart these improvements need to happen. And when they do, Kokomo will be recognized around the state and nation as a community that really gets it.

For those of you who already enjoy the south 13 mile section of the Nickel Plate Trail from Cassville to the Wabash River, a major milestone will soon be celebrated. The long awaited bridge over the Wabash into Peru is scheduled to open around September 1. At that time the trail should also be paved from the Wallick Road Trailhead to Main Street. The Grand Opening Celebration for this signature bridge will be held on Saturday, October 1, in conjunction with the Cole Porter 15K Run & 5K Run/Walk. The Cole Porter races will start at 9 am. Following the race there will be an organized ride that is free to all participants with a formal bridge dedication and ribbon cutting scheduled for Noon so bring the bikes! Visit www.nickelplatetrail.org or email runckrr@aol.com for more information. It should be quite a day in the Circus City as I hope to see all of you running and riding the roads and trail!

NUMBERS UP, TIMES DOWN AT MIRACLE MILE By C. Skoog

You never know who or how many will show up for the Wednesday evening Miracle Mile in Highland Park but lately it's been a crowd. Many in that crowd seem intent on getting faster! For those new to the club, the Jackie Sanders Miracle Mile takes place at 6 pm each Wed. It's a free run and/or walk and the times are recorded and published in the Kokomo Tribune as well as this newsletter. On June 29 the Western Lady Harriers were out in force and Krissy Durr ran 6:12 tying Brittiani Gillem's women's course record. That same evening, nine year old Brayden York had a personal best 7:48, seventy-something, Ken Huston ran a post surgery best 9:55 and venerable Milt Brown took almost a minute off his previous weeks time. Bryan Phillips remains the course record holder at 4:36 but lately Kory Kennedy has inched down into the high 4:40's. Kory's mom, Cara McKellar was a sprinter in high school and still holds the Northwestern Tigers 200 meter record. On June 22, Cara was super excited to set another personal standard when she blasted thru the 8:00 barrier with a 7:55. That evening the mile was won by, not Parker Jones, but his dad Terry, a perfect example of how walking and running can reshape a life. A week earlier another ex-sprinter, Paul Wyman, smashed the 6:00 barrier with a 5:52. Paul was chased and paced by our Amish runner Glen Otto, who clocked a 5:50. Glenn seems to float when he runs and his love of running is contagious. We invite you to come out this summer and catch the fever! Many thanks to the Miracle Mile scoring crew, Diana Brown, Dan Coughlin, Janie Reed, and Robin Cole who cools and slices the watermelon.
